

The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus Application Fee

The University charges an application fee of USD50 for all of its courses (Foundation, Undergraduate, Postgraduate Taught and Research).

In the event that students decide to defer their entry, an additional charge of USD25 will be implemented for the deferment. A deferment of entry is valid only for one academic cycle (eg. Sept 2011 deferred to Sept 2012). A deferment which is not undertaken within the stipulated time-frame will lapse and if students would like to enrol into a different academic year outside the period of their deferment, they would have to submit a new application to the university.

Students who have been offered a place in the programme they originally applied for may change their course/programme by paying an additional USD25. Only one change of programme will be permitted.

Government or organisation sponsored students are exempted from paying this fee when they provide a letter which confirms their sponsorship details.
