

Registration & Enrolment Information - September 2017 Intake (Foundation)

All students are required to register with the University at the beginning of each academic session – what this means is explained below. You will also find details of the University's Regulations, your responsibilities and rights as a student and the University's responsibilities to you.

Please make sure that you read through all the sections carefully as they contain important information. Enjoy your time at the Malaysia Campus!

(A) Registration and Enrolment

In this section, you will find information about your registration and enrolment with the University.

i. What is registration?

Before you begin your studies for the first time, and again at the start of each new academic year, you must register with the University. This involves you to complete a Online Registration through MyNottingham which is your agreement to observe the University's regulations while you are a student here. You should read the summary of your rights and further information about the University's Regulations (<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/current/regulations/>) before coming to the registration event.

It is a MUST for you to complete the Online Registration before you attend the In-Person Registration.

ii. What is enrolment?

Once you have completed the online registration, paid your fees and go through the In Person Registration, you are enrolled with the University and will be issued with your student identity card which gives you access to the campus and its facilities. You are encourage to pay your tuition fees in advance before the In-Person Registration to avoid the queue to complete the registration.

(C) Your Studies

In this section, you will find information that is more specific to your studies and the academic side of your time at the University:

Your School

As well as registering with the University as a whole, you will need to register with your individual School. In many cases, an induction programme will be arranged for the first week of term where you will get information about your timetable and module choices meet key staff and have the opportunity to talk with your tutors. You should visit your School web pages for further information or check notice boards at the beginning of term.

Module registration

You will be asked to complete a Module Entry Form. This is the process of choosing appropriate modules at the beginning of each year and completing the necessary paperwork to ensure that your choices are recorded for your examination entries and academic record.

Regulations, rights and responsibilities

When you register, you are signing a written undertaking to obey the Ordinances and Regulations of the University which are in force during your period of study. This includes regulations governing the payment of fees and other sums due to the University, and those governing attendance, conduct and progress in studies.

Networked IT facilities

Information technology is an integral part of academic life and no doubt you will make use of the facilities provided by the University during your time at the Malaysia Campus. You will need access to computers for basic use with word processing, spreadsheet work and internet access, and you will also find that schools and departments are making increasing use of more sophisticated IT facilities such as e-Learning, tools to aid study and access to online resources.

The University provides access to IT facilities in a number of Information Services Computer Rooms (CRs or TCRs). The computers in these rooms are connected to the University IT network service which allows you to access your emails and the Internet. You will be provided with an account on the University's Active Directory system which you will be able to use shortly after you register.
