Welcome to The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus
A guide for new students 2015/16

www.nottingham.edu.my/study/offer-holders

Hello and welcome

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus. I hope your time with us will be genuinely transformational.

The University of Nottingham has a strong tradition of teaching and research which has placed it amongst the top universities in the UK and internationally; indeed, the QS World University Rankings 2013/14 ranks us in the top 1% of universities worldwide. The Malaysia Campus continues to grow and mature, and you will now become part of our global community.

Being offered a place at the University signifies that we feel you have great potential. We sincerely hope you will develop academically and personally during your time with us; we are justifiably proud of what our students achieve whilst studying, and the great things they go on to achieve afterwards.

I also hope you will take advantage of the wider opportunities available to you whilst you are at our Malaysia Campus, and that when you leave you will take very happy memories of your university days with you.

Professor David Greenaway
Vice-Chancellor
The University of Nottingham

It's a great pleasure for me to welcome you to The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus. As a full campus of The University of Nottingham, we offer a British style education, delivered within a truly international campus community, which is physically located close to one of Southeast Asia's most vibrant cities – Kuala Lumpur.

The benefits of a university education are considerable – you will develop subject specific knowledge and skills through your academic work. But you will also have the potential to acquire a broad range of personal transferable skills through the many extracurricular activities available in and around campus.

Over 4,500 students from over 70 countries are studying for a range of programmes from foundation to PhD across 17 different schools and departments. You will be able to meet, work and socialise with people from different academic backgrounds, different cultures and different countries. I hope you will leave university with both a high-quality degree which is valued by employers and with a new outlook on life, as well as a greater understanding of different cultures, races, religions and beliefs.

Universities are many things – places for learning and study, places for research, places for culture, places for living – but above all, universities are communities. Welcome to ours!

Professor Christine Ennew
Provost and CEO, The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus
Pro-Vice-Chancellor, The University of Nottingham

Accommodation and arriving at the University

University accommodation

When you receive a room offer from the University you should do the following:

- Read it carefully, taking note of the terms and conditions and the deadline for payments – rooms are only confirmed on receipt of the payment required
- Return any signed forms, and any other required information, and make the necessary payments to the University by the specified deadline – if you have trouble getting your room acceptance back to the University by the deadline, please fax or email the Accommodation Office, otherwise they will allocate your room to another student.

It is the University's policy that students who are allocated accommodation in halls of residence are allowed to stay for only one academic year.

On-campus accommodation

The on-campus halls of residence have a variety of room configurations and rental rates and are rented on a self-catering basis. There are small pantries available on each floor – these are designed for preparing drinks and snacks and as meeting points for students. As we anticipate that you will use the catering services in the Student Association Building, the pantries are not designed to be used for cooking all your meals.

Every hall of residence has a warden who is a member of University staff and an on-campus resident. The wardens are there to assist you with any issues that arise while living at the University, and any other aspect of student life. They are also responsible for organising social and sporting activities for the halls.

These activities are a good way to meet other students, and we encourage you to join in. When you move in, your hall manager will give you a copy of the rules and regulations for life in your hall. Please familiarise yourself with these.

Off-campus accommodation

Off-campus accommodation is not handled by the University. The off-campus accommodation is close to the University campus, allowing student residents to fully integrate with the activities held on campus. There is transport to and from the off-campus accommodation.

Disclaimer

The off-campus accommodation is a private arrangement between the student and the service provider of off-campus accommodation. The University is under no obligation to either party on any matter. The University acts as a facilitator to provide information to students about off-campus accommodation and will not be held liable in any way to either party.

When do I need to arrive?

Before registration, you will receive information explaining when you need to arrive on campus. Normally, students are only allowed to check into on-campus accommodation one week before registration day. Malaysian students will only be allowed to check in during Accommodation Office working hours (Monday to Friday from 9am- 5.30pm). If you are an international student, please refer to the airport pick-up information which will be sent together with your visa approval letter.

What do I need to bring?

Here are some suggestions for what to bring to university, based on feedback from previous new starters.

Essential Identification

Bring at least two pieces of ID (such as your passport, driving licence or University acceptance letter). These will be useful if you haven't managed to open a student bank account before you leave home, or if you are likely to travel abroad.

Bed linen, towels and hangers

Most people bring their own bed linen, although it can be provided in on-campus accommodation if you need it. You can either bring your own towels and hangers, or you can buy them from a nearby supermarket.

Top tip!

Please ensure you have enough money for your day-to-day living expenses for the duration of your course. We would also expect you to pay your tuition fees for each academic year within the deadlines stipulated by the Finance Office, so remember to plan ahead. If you need information about the financial assistance which may be available to you, please visit our website:
www.nottingham.edu.my/study/fees-and-scholarships

Useful

Computer or mobile devices

Bringing your own computer or mobile device, such as a smartphone or tablet, is useful but not essential.

USB memory stick

A memory stick is useful for backing up your work.

Extras

Homely things

Posters, photo frames, cushions and throws can help you feel more at home in your room.

Food to share

Offering biscuits, sweets or chocolates is a nice way to get chatting to people.

Games

Bring any games you have – they're great for cheap but fun nights in.

Fancy dress

If you've got any fancy dress outfits, you'll have plenty of opportunities to wear them, particularly during your first week!

Bringing your own laptop or mobile device will allow you to study in lots of areas across campus using our WiFi network.

Extra information for international students

Health insurance

As an international student, in compliance with the Malaysian Ministry of Education's Code of Ethics, you will need to be covered by medical insurance throughout your period of study here. Medical insurance is organised for full-time international students through EMGS. Group Hospitalisation and Surgical Policy is through AXA Affin General Insurance Berhad.

Key points

- Your medical insurance will come into effect from the point of registration at The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus (UNMC) during the registration week and is valid as long as you have a student pass from UNMC.
- Outpatient specialist treatment, dental treatment, optical treatment and pre-existing conditions are all excluded from the policy. Observation tests, lab examinations, general physical or medical examinations, diagnosis and X-ray examinations for investigatory purposes are not covered either.
- An excess of RM50 per claim is applicable for all medical expenses.
- Please be aware that this policy does not cover 100% of your medical expenses.

You should refer to your detailed policy for further information.

For more information about the Group Hospitalisation and Surgical Insurance, please contact Anushia Thamothers:

t: +60 3 8924 8684 (during office hours)
e: anushia.thamothers@nottingham.edu.my w: www.nottingham.edu.my/international/health-and-insurance

Your Healthcare Card

- You will receive a Healthcare Card as part of your health insurance within approximately 30 days of signing up and a link to the policy with a list of panel hospitals will be emailed by the International Office.
- This card entitles you to cashless admission to most of the panel hospitals during emergency admissions however some hospitals may require a minimal deposit.
- If you lose your card, please contact the Student Support Officer at the International Office (based in the Enquiry Centre on the ground floor of Block A) to arrange to have it replaced. There is a charge of RM5 for a replacement card.

Your Healthcare Card will contain the following information:

- name
- passport number
- period of insurance
- policy number
- helpline number – you should save this in your mobile phone

Visas

As an international student studying in Malaysia you will be granted a student visa/student pass for one year (or part of a year), depending on the country which issued your passport. You are responsible for the timely submission of the documents needed to renew your student pass.

Renewing your student pass

You must submit your passport and other documents to the Student Visa Office three months before the expiry date of your student pass. There will be a separate charge for the extension of the student pass and multiple entry visas. If you submit your documents after the deadline, you will be liable to pay any extra fees incurred for late submission. If you have any queries about student visas, please contact the Student Visa Office:

t: +60 3 8725 3715
e: apply.visa@nottingham.edu.my

Passports

You should carry your passport at all times as immigration enforcement officers carry out random checks at public places. If your original passport has been submitted to the Malaysian Immigration for the extension of your student pass, make sure you carry a certified true copy of your passport and your student ID. If you lose your passport, you should:

- lodge a police report within 24 hours of the incident
- submit a copy of the police report to your home country's embassy/consulate in Malaysia as part of the new passport re-application process
- notify the Student Visa Office, either in person at the Student Services Centre in the Student Association Building or by calling 03 8725 3715, to transfer endorsement of the student pass to your new passport at Malaysian State Immigration

Employment

International students who enter Malaysia on a student visa have few opportunities to undertake paid employment. Although there are some legal opportunities to work, the Malaysian Immigration Department has set limitations for international students undertaking any form of paid employment while studying in Malaysia. You are only allowed to work 20 hours per week in a restricted category of jobs during long vacations. If you are interested in undertaking employment at any stage during your studies, please consult the Student Visa Office at the Student Services Centre in the Student Association Building.

t: +60 3 8725 3715

Under no circumstances should you undertake unofficial employment as this could result in your student visa being revoked.

Currency

The Malaysian currency is denoted with the expression 'RM' which stands for 'Ringgit Malaysia' and is still unofficially known as the Malaysian dollar. One unit of currency is divided into 100 sen (cents). The ringgit bank notes are issued in six denominations: RM100, RM50, RM20, RM10, RM5 and RM1. The coins are minted in denominations of sen: 5 sen, 10 sen, 20 sen and 50 sen. Foreign currencies can only be changed to RM at banks or licensed money changers.

Tipping

Most hotels and restaurants include a 10% service charge and 6% government tax on bills. Tipping is not customary in Malaysia but if you wish to show your appreciation of good service, a small tip will be welcome.

Driving in Malaysia

It is possible to drive in Malaysia with a valid driving licence from most countries for your first three months here. After three months you will need to either have an international driving permit, which is usually valid for one year (international driving permits must be obtained in your home country before you come to Malaysia), or obtain a Malaysian driving license. Only PhD students can convert their home country licence to a Malaysian driving licence. All other students may have to undergo a driving test in Malaysia to obtain a Malaysian driving license. If you intend to drive, it may be worth checking to see if you are entitled to obtain a Malaysian driving licence. For more details, see www.jpj.gov.my

You are legally required to carry your driving licence with you at all times while driving in Malaysia. Failure to produce your licence when stopped by police may result in a fine. Please be careful when driving as the rules may be different from those in your home country. If you are involved in an accident, avoid confrontational behaviour. Should you be threatened, leave the scene and report the incident to local police within 24 hours.

It is possible to drive in Malaysia with a valid driving licence from most countries for your first three months here.

Key points for driving in Malaysia

- Traffic in Malaysia drives on the left-hand side of the road and most vehicles use right-hand drive.
- Traffic is heavy during the morning and afternoon rush hours and slows down considerably when it rains.
- Front and back seat belts are mandatory.
- Mobile phones cannot be used while driving.
- Laws against drinking and driving are strictly enforced with stiff penalties.
- It is compulsory for all motorcyclists to wear an approved crash helmet.

Register and enrol

What is registration?

Before you begin your studies, you must register with the University. This involves signing a registration form, which is your agreement to observe the University's regulations while you are a student here. Before coming to registration, you should read further information about the University's regulations on the 'Study regulations' section of our Quality Manual:

www.nottingham.ac.uk/qualitymanual

Please also refer to the student charter on our website which seeks to describe the environment, relationships and mutual expectations which underpin the student experience at the University

Where and when do I register?

Please refer to the registration timetable, which will be sent to you in advance of your arrival, to find out when and where you should register.

For full-time students, the registration will normally be conducted at the main campus in Semenyih. Some part-time students will register in the Kuala Lumpur Teaching Centre, in the heart of Kuala Lumpur city. The registration date of your programme will normally be stated in your offer letter. You will receive an email from the Admissions Office with the confirmed dates and venues nearer to registration. www.nottingham.edu.my/study/offer-holders

When you register, please bring:

- your original unconditional offer letter
- two passport-sized photos (with your name and course of study on the back of each photograph)
- an A4 copy of the personal details page of your passport

Regulations, rights and responsibilities

When you register, you are signing a written undertaking to obey the Ordinances and Regulations of the University which are in force during your period of study. This includes regulations governing the payment of fees and other sums due to the University, and those governing attendance, conduct and progress in studies.

Registering with your school or department

As well as registering with the University, you will need to register with your individual school or department. In many cases, an induction programme will be arranged for the first week of term where you will receive information about your timetable and module choices, meet key staff and have the opportunity to talk with your tutors. You should visit your school or department website for further information or check their notice boards at the beginning of term.

Module registration

You will be asked to complete a Module Entry Form. This will allow you to choose appropriate modules at the beginning of each year, and you will also complete the necessary paperwork to ensure that your choices are recorded for your examination entries and academic records.

What is enrolment?

Once you have completed the registration form, you will need to pay your tuition fees for the University to enrol you. You will then be issued with your student ID, which gives you access to the campus and its facilities.

Collect your student ID

The student ID is a multifunctional card that is issued to all students. This card is specific to The University of Nottingham and contains a combination of Mifare proximity chip, magstripe and barcode technologies. The card contains key information that is utilised by a number of systems around the University, such as the cardholder's name, photograph, library category, library card number and student number. The functions of the student ID are as follows:

- Means of identification
- Library card
- Building access card
- Sports Centre card
- Online library borrowing
- Photocopying authorisation

Attend the induction programme

It is very important for all new students to attend the induction programme arranged by the University. The inductions will be scheduled one day after your registration.

Local students should attend the induction for all new students. International students should attend the induction for all new international students as well as the induction for all new students.

During the inductions you will find out about all aspects of living and studying in Malaysia, including: what to expect during your study with us; safety regulations; accessing the library and IT facilities; your academic timetable; immigration laws; medical treatment and insurance; counselling; transport; and advice on what to do in an emergency.

You will receive induction information during your registration. Details will also be on the offer holders section of our website:

www.nottingham.edu.my/study/offer-holders

Get connected

Information technology is an integral part of academic life and you will most likely make use of the facilities provided by the University during your time here. You will need access to either a personal or University networked computer for basic word processing and spreadsheet work, as well as for internet access. You will also find that schools and departments are increasingly making use of more sophisticated IT facilities, such as elearning, online study aid tools and access to online resources.

The University provides access to IT facilities in a number of Information Services Computer Rooms (CRs or TCRs). The computers in these rooms are connected to the University IT network, allowing you to access your emails and the internet. You will be provided with an account on the University's system, which you will be able to use shortly after you register.

Internet access is made available to students 24-hours-a-day at the computer centre (Block F2). Wireless connection points are available in all common areas on campus, except the halls of residence and the sports complex. If you would like to use this service, you will first need to register through Information Services. If you live on campus or within a 5km radius, you can connect to the internet via Extreme Broadband.

For more information on getting connected, see page 32.

Top tip!

If you have any questions during registration week, you are welcome to call into the Student Services Centre (Block H, level B) for assistance.

- All buildings on campus are labelled with a letter (from Block A to Block N).
- The floors/levels of each building are also labelled with a letter (A for ground floor, B for first floor, C for second floor, and D for third floor).
- All rooms are labelled with a number.

As an example, room HB02 is situated in Block H, floor B, room number 02.

Please note that Block F has three sections, and the 'F' is followed by a number to indicate the section – so F3B02 means Block F, section 3, floor B, room 02.

Campus map

Academic and administrative buildings

Academic staff, faculty offices and laboratories (Blocks B to E)

The academic staff, the faculty administrative offices and the laboratories are located in Blocks B to E. You will find it useful to familiarise yourself with the location of your faculty office, the dean of your faculty and key academic staff such as your tutor and course director.

There are also a few lecture and seminar rooms in Blocks B to E. You are advised to familiarise yourself with these before your first lecture or seminar.

Central teaching buildings (Blocks F1 and F3)

The central teaching buildings are the location for most of the lectures you will attend. Between the two teaching complexes there are six tiered lecture theatres and twelve lecture rooms of varying sizes. Water fountains are located in the entrance lobbies.

We strongly recommend that you familiarise yourself with the layout of the central teaching buildings before lectures start so that you can arrive on time without disturbing others.

Please remember:

- to keep noise levels to a minimum when you are in the central teaching building atrium as lectures and seminars may be going on in some of the rooms nearby
- you are not allowed to eat or drink in the lecture rooms or lecture theatres
- to discard rubbish when you leave the lecture rooms and use the waste bins provided in the atrium and the entrance lobby

Computer centre (Block F2)

The computer centre, located adjacent to the central teaching building, houses the main University servers and telephone exchange, together with the teaching computer rooms, the open access computer rooms and the IT helpdesk facility. Vending machines and a water dispenser are available in the lobby. We also have male and female prayer rooms on the ground floor.

Please be aware that you will not be able to access the first floor, apart from Teaching Computer Room 3, outside of normal working hours (ie between 6pm and 9am on weekdays, and all day on weekends and public holidays). The helpdesk, inside the Information Services Office, can be reached during office hours.

As a student you will be able to access the computer rooms 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Please note, outside of normal working hours (see above) you will need your student ID to access them.

Rules

Under no circumstances must food or drink be consumed in any of the computer rooms. All users of the University computer network must abide by the IT Code of Practice (see page 32). If you fail to comply with these regulations, you may have your computer network privileges removed.

Library (Block G)

You can only access the library via the bridge between the central teaching buildings and the computer centre. You will need to enter and exit through the security gates to ensure that all books have been properly issued out. Bags are not allowed in the library.

The main circulation desk is on level B (access level) and books and journals are located on all levels. Please familiarise yourself with the layout of the library so that you know where your subject books are located. A short-loan collection is located behind the main circulation desk on level B. Items in this collection are available for overnight loans only.

The reference desk, also on level B, offers reference services and staff there can answer your questions and help you to use a range of printed and electronic library resources.

A high-demand collection is also located on level B. This collection contains books which have been recommended by teaching staff as essential texts on the course reading lists or reference books which are heavily in use by students. Books in the high-demand collection are for reference only in the library. There are plenty of spaces within the library for you to work, either at the work desks or at the study carrels located on most levels of the library.

Learning Hub B, a newly refurbished flexible study area with integrated IT and audiovisual equipment, can be found on level B. Learning Hub devices such as a smart pen, remote control and USB adaptor (toggle) can be borrowed from the main circulation desk. A second Learning Hub, Learning Hub A, is located on level A; again, devices can be borrowed from the main circulation desk. A water dispenser can be found in the lift lobby of level B.

On level C there is a small computer room which contains around 20 terminals connected to the University network.

Books, journals and online public access catalogue stations (for searching the library catalogue only) are available on all levels.

Your student ID is also your library card, so please ensure that you have it with you at all times while in the library. You will also need your library card to borrow books using the self-service machine located on level B, and to borrow a laptop at the main circulation desk. Please do not use a friend's identity card to borrow library items and do not lend your card to anyone else for this purpose. Anyone found loaning their card for this purpose may have their library privileges removed.

Laptops are available to borrow from the main circulation desk. These can only be used within the library, and for a maximum of three hours. Keep the laptop with you at all times as you are personally responsible for it

For more information on the library, visit www.nottingham.edu.my/is/libraryservices

Opening hours

The circulation desk is staffed 8.30am-9pm, Monday-Friday, and 10am-6pm at weekends. It is closed on public holidays.

The reference desk is staffed on weekdays only, 11am-3pm.

Rules

- When using the library please remember that it is a place of work and most users are there to study in a quiet environment. Any student found making excessive noise will be asked to leave the library.
- It is forbidden to use a mobile phone in the library except in the designated 'phone zone'. Please ensure your mobile phone is either turned off or set to silent mode.
- It is forbidden to consume food and drinks in the library.

The Graduate School (Block B)

The Graduate School is located on the ground floor, in BA02A. It offers a range of facilities for postgraduate students, including a seminar room which seats up to 60 people, a lounge area with comfortable sofas and tables, wireless internet, board games and magazines.

Facilities within the Graduate School are bookable, free of charge, and can be used by postgraduates and early career researchers for reading or study groups, practising presentations or any kind of study.

For more information about the Graduate School, please see page 32.

Academic essentials

Your school

There are 17 schools and departments at The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus which form our three faculties. Each of you will have a home school or department (referred to as schools in this guide) responsible for administering your course. This is where the majority of your tutors will be based. Your personal academic tutor will most likely be based within your school.

The school is your hub of academic information. Any issues with your course should be discussed with your personal tutor, the school office or another school tutor who teaches you. Each school has a student-led society which will host social events throughout the year and organise sports teams which play in the intramural leagues. For more information about societies and sports clubs, see pages 37-38.

Good to know...

If you're only studying at the University for part of your course on a study abroad or exchange programme, the Study Abroad Team in the International Office will provide you with lots of information specific to you about the structure of your time here, module enrolment and academic support.

Your degree structure

Foundation programmes

The foundation programme runs full-time for either two or three semesters, comprising of 6 modules each semester.

Two-semester programme

The two-semester programme is suitable if you have completed at least 12 years of formal education but need to enhance your skills in order to undertake an undergraduate degree.

Three-semester programme

The three-semester programme is ideal if you have completed a minimum of 11 years of formal education.

After you have successfully completed the foundation programme you can go on to study one of our undergraduate degree programmes.

Undergraduate programmes

An undergraduate degree typically takes three years to complete, during which time you will normally study 120 credits per year. Modules are usually either 10 or 20 credits and can last for one semester or a whole academic year. Your degree will normally consist of core compulsory modules and optional modules. At the beginning of each academic year, you will need to choose your optional modules, if applicable to your course. Your school's website will provide information on compulsory modules; you may also be able to take optional modules from other schools.

Postgraduate taught programmes

Postgraduate taught degrees are usually taken over one year full-time, while some can be taken part-time over a longer period of study. Your degree will usually consist of core compulsory modules and, depending on your course, you may be able to choose some optional modules. Your school's website will provide information on your module options.

A list of all modules offered at the University can be found at modulecatalogue.nottingham.ac.uk/malaysia

Your learning: what to expect

The learning methods used and the number of hours that you will be required to study while at university will depend on your course. Learning methods could include lectures, seminars, field trips or laboratory classes. In addition you will be expected to study independently. This may involve reading, completing coursework, revising and preparing for exams and presentations.

Assessment

Many of your modules will be assessed via examinations and essays. However, you may also be assessed through presentations, practicals (in a lab or clinic) or through other methods such as online assessments, group projects and reports, or oral examinations.

Support

Lecturers will be happy to meet you on a one-to-one basis and will usually have set hours for appointments.

The best way to guarantee that you will not contract this disease is to avoid sexual activity unless you are certain that your partner is free from the infection.

If you come into contact with blood or other bodily fluids from a person who may have HIV/AIDS please report it to the doctor so that appropriate monitoring and treatment can be undertaken. If you know or suspect that you are infected by HIV/AIDS, we would urge you to discuss the issue with the student counsellor (see page 34 for details of the counselling service).

Student Association

As a student at the University, you are automatically a member of the Student Association (SA), which focuses on student experience at The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus (UNMC) and also acts as the voice of the student community to University management.

The SA encourages you to get to know your peers and get involved with the wide range of events and activities organised by the SA Executives and its clubs and societies, beginning with Freshers' Week for new students.

The SA receives an annual grant from the University in order to offer activities and improve equipment and facilities for students. They also have the authority to raise additional funds from profits made by running activities, and via business ventures run by students such as the merchandise shop Nott A Shop.

Becoming involved with the SA is a great opportunity for you to get more involved in student life at UNMC. It will give you the opportunity to directly contribute to the student voice and is a great way to enhance your CV.

Student Association Executive Committee

The SA is run by an Executive Committee of 10 elected full-time student volunteers holding various portfolios to serve the student community. The Executive Committee aims to improve the experience of student life by providing representation, development opportunities and quality services for all our students. No matter what your level of study, your student experience will be taken care of by your elected peers from the moment you first step into UNMC until the day you graduate.

Each committee member has a tenure of 10 months. There are also three staff members who act as advisors to the Executive Committee and the overall running of the SA services.

Freshers' Week

The SA aims to provide all new students with a fun-filled Week One experience. During Week One you can enjoy various events designed to welcome you to the University, make new friends and experience the diversity of the University. Past activities have included ice-breaking sessions, karaoke, campus-wide treasure hunts, cabaret, bowling, BBQ nights, music jamming sessions and much more.

Clubs and societies

The SA has over 60 clubs and societies spanning a range of areas, including academic societies, culture, religion, special interests, international affiliated societies and social activities. We strongly recommend that you become a member of one or more of our clubs and societies, as this will help you to build up your resume and continue your own self-development. Most charge an annual fee of between RM10 to RM20 depending on the nature of the club or society. During the second week of the first semester there is a clubs and societies fair where you can see what they have to offer and sign up as a member.

Networks

To make sure your opinions and interests are represented to the University, the SA has networks which fall under the specific portfolios of the elected executive officers. By bringing matters concerning the improvement of student life to the University management, these networks ensure that your voice is heard.

Student Council

The Student Council serves as a key component of our student community – it is the highest governing and policy setting body of The University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus Student Association (SA). The Council consists of 50 student representatives who serve in the interest of all members of the SA. These students serve at various levels across our vibrant student community under the positions of:

- SA Executive Officers
- school representatives
- faculty coordinators
- representational officers
- hall tutors

Council's roles include the deliberation on and consideration of business affecting the student community, initiation and framing of SA bylaws as well as regulation and policy, and holds the Executive Committee, Standing Committees, Executive Officers and all other branches of the SA accountable.

Council also plays a critical role in University decisions by advocating your demands and supporting the work of the University. In short, we are a platform through which you can effect change and voice your demands.

Council is run by a Steering Committee, chaired by the Council Chairman, whilst also comprising of a Vice-Chair and the Council Secretary; all of whom are responsible for everything ranging from publicising the Council, to highlighting concerns to Councillors.

How can you get involved?

Start by just turning up

We have a minimum of seven Council meetings per year. Everyone can come along to these meetings; just turn up, air your views and get involved in the debates and discussions.

Become part of a Committee

You can stand for a Committee position and play a part in running the SA. Elections to various positions take place throughout the year at Council.

Become a Council Representative

We are always on the lookout for undergraduates and postgraduates to become Council Representatives. Councillors are elected in the spring semester for the upcoming year. The role of a representative is to attend Council and represent the people who have elected them by informing them of any issues being discussed which may affect them. It is a really important and exciting job and you will receive full training at the start of the academic year.

No matter how you choose to get involved, we appreciate your initiative to help us continually meet the demands of our student community. We look forward to seeing you at our next meeting! Do feel free to drop by our office in the Student Association Building (Block H) or email any enquires to SCouncil.Chair@nottingham.edu.my

“The Student Association is a key feature of student life here at the campus and I urge you all to give the Student Association Committee your full support for the activities they arrange throughout the year. The officers of the Student Association are full-time students just like you and they have volunteered to take on these tasks for the benefit of the student body. Their input to student life will be far more rewarding if they are supported by the student body as a whole, so please support their efforts.”

International calls

International calls can be made from fixed land line and mobile phones.

www.celcom.com.my
- DiGi Telecommunications Sdn Bhd
www.digi.com.my
- Maxis Communications Bhd

The timetable for the shuttle bus is posted in prominent places around the campus and is available from www.nottingham.edu.my/shuttlebus

An additional bus service will be provided on Fridays from the campus at 1pm to the nearest mosque. The bus departs from the mosque at 2pm.

All departure times are subject to change due to traffic conditions.

You must present your UNMC student ID upon boarding. Students who do not have their ID card will not be able to use the shuttle bus service.

The buses are easily identifiable by the University logos placed on each side of the bus and the sign on the front window.

During term break, shuttle van services are available for students to commute to and from the KTM station in Kajang. The routes and schedules are as on page 44.

Public bus services

The nearest bus terminal is in Semenyih (Semenyih Sentral, 3km from campus) where you can catch public service buses to Kajang (the main bus station is close to Metro Kajang) and then to Kuala Lumpur. A journey from Semenyih to Kajang costs RM1-RM1.30 on the Road Liner and City Liner services.

You can also take a RapidKL U40 bus from Kajang (Terminal Kajang) to Kuala Lumpur (Pasar Seni Putra Light Rail Transit Station, near Central Market) at a cost of around RM3.

In Kuala Lumpur the bus pick-up/drop-off point is in front of Kota Raya (next to the Pudu Raya bus terminal).

Commuter train

The commuter train (KTM) is the most cost-effective way to travel from Kajang to Mid Valley or Kuala Lumpur. You can take the free University shuttle bus (see page 44) to the nearest KTM station in Kajang (9km from campus). From there, there is a KTM service every 15-20 minutes (6am-11pm) to Kuala Lumpur at a cost of RM2.80.

Light Rail Transit

The Light Rail Transit (LRT) network, Kelana Jaya Line (Putra line) and Ampang Line (STAR line), enables you to travel conveniently around Klang Valley. For fare and schedule information, visit www.myrapid.com.my

Taxis

Taxis are readily available from Kajang to the campus. The taxi fare from Kajang to campus should not normally cost more than RM30 per trip and the fare from Semenyih to campus is around RM10. Please be aware that taxis in Kajang do not operate by meter and you will need to negotiate the cost of the trip before embarking on your journey.

There are a few taxis available on campus. However, they are not allowed to be stationed after 11pm; they are only allowed to pick-up and drop-off passengers.

Between 12am and 6am taxis charge 50% on top of the metered rate, if there is one.

If you have any complaints about the taxi service you use, please inform the Student Association Welfare Officer, Student Association Manager or Head of Security immediately.

Driving to the campus

The campus is located 3km east of the junction of Jalan Broga and Highway 1 in Semenyih, Selangor. It can be reached by road from Kuala Lumpur and from Kuala Lumpur International Airport in about 40 minutes.

Campus entrances

There are currently two access points onto the campus: the main vehicle entrance off Jalan Broga and a pedestrian entrance from Taman Tasik Semenyih 5 (TTS 5). Both entrances are manned by security guards 24 hours a day and everyone entering the campus will require either a student or staff pass. If you do not have one of these, you will need to register at the guardhouse as a visitor.

Top tip!

It is worthwhile purchasing a Touch 'n' Go card as it makes it convenient to pay for your public transport fares. Touch 'n' Go cards enable you to pay for LRT, KTM and Monorail fees by swiping your card at train and monorail stations. You can purchase and top up Touch 'n' Go cards at train and monorail stations and some petrol stations and convenience stores. Find out more at www.touchngo.com.my

Exploring Kuala Lumpur

Kuala Lumpur – also known as KL – is a fascinating city with a great mix of historic temples and contemporary architecture, including the tallest twin buildings ever built, the Petronas Towers. It hosts a number of festivals and is a great place to visit.

Shopping

Kuala Lumpur is a shopping paradise. There are endless shopping opportunities from one-stop shopping malls to open-air markets. Malls are usually open from 10am-10pm but street shops or boutiques may operate shorter hours. Prices of goods are fixed in department stores but it's worth trying to bargain elsewhere.

Shopping centres

Mid Valley Megamall is one of the city's premier shopping malls and claims to have something for everyone, with cinemas, gyms, bowling alleys, a one-stop IT centre, mega bookstores, a range of fashion boutiques and a variety of delicacies from local delights to international cuisine. Fast-food outlets can also be found in this mall.

The megamall is the most accessible mall from the Semenyih Campus, via the commuter train (KTM). The University shuttle bus will drop you off at Kajang Station and you then need to get the train to Mid Valley Station. The train will stop right in front of the mall and the journey costs RM2.60. You can also opt to travel by taxi which costs RM60 for a single trip to the mall.

Suria KLCC is a shopping complex located at the base of the Petronas Towers. It houses mostly luxury and fashionable shops, as well as cafes, restaurants, a cinema, a concert hall, an art gallery and the Science Discovery Centre. Getting there is easy. Take the commuter train from Kajang Station to KL Sentral Station and then change to the Kelana Jaya line. When you get off at the KLCC Station, you will be in the basement of the world's tallest twin buildings.

Low Yat Plaza is an established shopping centre which specialises in electronics and IT products. This is a great place to buy IT gadgets, laptops and any computer-related software and hardware.

You'll find it next to the Imbi monorail station. From Kajang, you can take the commuter train (KTM) and get off at KL Sentral Station for an interchange to the monorail line. Get off at Imbi Station.

Markets

Petaling Street/Chinatown is a chance to experience the excitement of bargaining! This open-air market is an eye-opening experience and you'll find some interesting items such as herbs for traditional remedies and Chinese artefacts. For the best atmosphere, make sure you go at night.

Central Market/Pasar Seni is a bazaar-style arts and crafts centre offering various art and craft products by local artists. You can have your portrait sketched or browse through the souvenirs on display. You might find interesting gifts for your friends and family at home.

You can access both Petaling Street and Central Market by taking the commuter train from Kajang Station to KL Sentral Station. Then, from KL Sentral, change to the Kelana Jaya line and get off at Pasar Seni Station.

Jalan Masjid India/Little India is a colourful street full of authentic Indian items such as traditional costumes, Indian delicacies, and beautiful crafted ornaments and accessories. It has the feel of a bazaar so be prepared to sweat it out when strolling along the street! Little India can be accessed by taking either the Ampang or Kelana Jaya line to the Masjid Jamek Station. Little India is a short walk along Jalan Melayu.

Please be aware of pickpockets when in the markets and keep your money in a safe place.

Top tip!

There is always a lot going on in Kuala Lumpur and the surrounding area. Time Out Kuala Lumpur is an excellent resource for finding out what events and activities are going on and is great for finding recommended places to eat.
w: www.timeoutkl.com

Please remember these points when out and about – they'll help make sure you have a safe and enjoyable experience here.

- It is unwise to travel alone in Kuala Lumpur, especially at night. We recommend you travel with a group of friends whom you trust.
- Don't leave your drinks unattended or allow strangers to buy you drinks.
- Watch the time – if you intend to stay out late, make arrangements to get home and don't accept lifts from strangers. Remember that it is difficult and more expensive to get a taxi after midnight (50% on top of the metered fare from midnight to 6am).
- Make sure that friends know where you are if you are going to be out late.
- Do not drive if you have been drinking.

Life in Malaysia

Malaysia is a country with a mixture of cultures based around its main ethnic groups. The three main races are the Malay, Chinese and Indian, along with the ethnic traditions of the natives (Orang Asli) and tribes in east Malaysia. These cultural traditions are further enhanced by the influence of the British, Dutch and Portuguese. The following pages are intended as a guide to customs in Malaysia, which may be different from those in your country.

Introductions and conduct

In Malaysia, introductions are normally acknowledged with a handshake. In Muslim culture, handshakes are generally exchanged between people of the same gender. Some Muslim women may acknowledge an introduction to a man with a nod of her head and smile. A handshake can be reciprocated if the woman offers her hand first to the man.

Addressing people

Malay men and women can be addressed by their first name. For instance, Amir Bin Yusof should be addressed as Mr Amir but not Mr Yusof, as the latter is his father's name. The term 'bin' means 'son' and 'binti' means 'daughter'. Sometimes names are preceded by the terms 'Encik', 'Puan' or 'Cik'. These are the Malay terms for Mr, Mrs and Miss respectively.

Chinese people have surnames which precede their given name. For instance, a lady whose name is Tan Wen Li can be addressed as Miss Tan. Some Chinese people have English names, such as James Wong. It would be proper to address him as Mr Wong.

Indians can be addressed by their given names. For instance, Anand a/l Chandran should be addressed as Mr Anand. The abbreviation 'a/l' stands for 'anak lelaki' meaning 'son of' and 'a/p' means 'anak perempuan' or 'daughter of'.

A number of Malaysians have been conferred titles by the Malaysian Government. Among these titles are Tun, Tan Sri, Dato and Datuk. It is appropriate to address them by their titles. Political dignitaries are conferred titles such as Yang Berhormat (YB) and Yang Amat Berhormat (YAB). The term of Mr or Encik is not necessary when addressing a person who has been conferred a title.

Gestures

The right hand is always used when eating with fingers or when giving and receiving objects. The right forefinger is not used for pointing at places, objects or people. The thumb of the right hand with the four fingers folded under is the preferred usage.

Public conduct

Public behaviour is especially important in Malaysian culture. Most Malaysians refrain from displaying affection (for example, embracing or kissing) in public. As a visitor to Malaysia it would be appropriate for you to do the same.

Weather and climate

The weather in Malaysia is generally warm throughout the year. The temperature generally ranges from 30°–34°C during the day and 25–28°C at night, with cooler temperatures during and after a heavy rainfall.

In the highlands, the temperature can be as low as 16°C. The high humidity level of 80% throughout the year makes it advisable to wear light and sweat-absorbent materials like cotton for daily dressing.

Generally, Malaysia has two distinct seasons. The dry season occurs during the southwest monsoon from May to September. The northeast monsoon brings the rainy season to the country from mid-November until March.

Food

Malaysian cuisine is derived from multi-ethnic influences and flavours. You'll find a great variety of dishes: spicy food, a seemingly endless variety of Chinese food, exotic cuisine from the north and south of India, and Nyonya and Portuguese food. These are some 'must try' local delicacies:

Kajang Satay is well known among Malaysians. It is a dish consisting of chunks or slices of dice-sized meat on bamboo skewers. These are grilled over a charcoal fire, and then served with a traditional peanut sauce. You can find stalls selling satay in Medan Satay Kajang.

Nasi Lemak means 'rice in cream'. The name is derived from the cooking process whereby rice is soaked in coconut cream and then steamed. Traditionally, this comes as a platter with cucumber slices, small dried anchovies, roasted peanuts, hard-boiled egg, pickled vegetables and hot spicy sauce (sambal). Nasi Lemak is sold at roadside stalls where it is often packed in newspaper, brown paper or banana leaf, and at Mamak (Indian-Muslim) restaurants in Malaysia.

Ais Kacang is a dessert primarily made of ice served with flavoured syrup, evaporated milk, red beans, sweet corn, grass jelly and some palm seeds. Most of the coffee shops, hawker centres and food courts offer this dessert.

Teh Tarik, literally meaning 'stretched tea' as the piping hot tea is skilfully 'pulled' from one mug to another to increase its aroma and cool its temperature, is made from black tea and condensed milk. This beverage can be commonly found in restaurants, outdoor stalls and coffee shops in Malaysia.

Festivals

Malaysia's mix of races, religions and cultures mean that the country celebrates multiracial festivals. If that wasn't exciting enough, Malaysia has a unique 'open house' concept where – during festivals such as Chinese New Year, Hari Raya Puasa, Deepavali and Christmas – friends, families and even strangers visit the homes of those who are celebrating the festival, to wish them well and enjoy the feast prepared by their hosts. Definitely something to experience!

Chinese New Year

The lunar New Year highlights some of the most fascinating aspects of Chinese tradition and rituals. This festival is celebrated by the Chinese community in Malaysia. It is commonly known as a time for family reunions, firecrackers, the lion dance, mandarin oranges and giving/collecting 'Ang Pow' (red packets with money in them). The festival, which once also marked the beginning of spring in China, begins on the first day of the lunar calendar year (the first day of the new moon) and ends on the 15th day, known as Chap Goh Meh (the last day of the full moon).

Christmas

The observance of the birth of Jesus Christ on 25 December is celebrated in Malaysia as in other parts of the world; it is a time for family and friends, hope and rejoicing, love and understanding, and giving and forgiving.

Deepavali/Diwali

Deepavali is celebrated by Hindus as the day the evil Narakasura was slain by Lord Krishna, signifying the triumph of light over darkness and good over evil. Deepavali is also known as Diwali, or the Festival of Lights. Light is significant in Hinduism because it signifies goodness. So, during the Festival of Lights, 'deeps', or oil lamps, are burned throughout the day and into the night to ward off darkness and evil.

Good Friday

Malaysian Christians gather in churches around the country for services to mark the 'saddest day' in the Christian calendar. Many churches hold several services, including one at 3pm – the hour Christ is traditionally said to have died.

Hari Raya Haji (Eid Ul-Adha)

Hari Raya Haji literally means 'festival of pilgrimage'. This festival is celebrated by Muslims to honour pilgrims who have completed their haj (pilgrimage) to Mecca. Hari Raya Haji falls on the 10th day of the month of Dzulhijjah, the last month of the Muslim calendar. It's also known as Hari Raya Qurban, which means 'festival of sacrifice'. Traditionally, a cow or goat was sacrificed as a food offering to the poor.

Hari Raya Puasa (Eid Ul-Fitri)

The most significant celebration for Muslims, Eid Ul-Fitri marks the end of the fasting month of Ramadan. The words 'Hari Raya' mean day of celebration in Malay. Known locally as Hari Raya Puasa or Hari Raya Aidil Fitri, the celebration is determined by the sighting of the new moon on the day before the next month on the Muslim calendar, Syawal.

Thaipusam

Hindus celebrate Thaipusam on the 10th month of the Hindu lunar calendar. Thaipusam is a Hindu festival celebrated mostly by the Tamil community on the full moon in the Tamil month of Thai (January/February). The word Thaipusam is derived from the month name 'Thai' and 'Pusam', which refers to a star that is at its highest point during the festival.

The festival commemorates both the birthday of Murugan (also Subramaniam), the youngest son of god Shiva and his wife Parvati, and the occasion when Parvati gave Murugan a vel (spear) so he could vanquish the evil demon Soorapadman. The festival is best witnessed at Batu Caves in Kuala Lumpur and in Penang.

Religion

All major religions have substantial representation in Malaysia. Although Islam is the official religion of Malaysia, freedom of religion is guaranteed. The University greatly values the contribution that people of all faiths make towards its social and academic life. We respect all religions and expect all students to do the same.

Places of worship

There are mosques, Buddhist temples, Hindu temples and Christian churches in both Semenyih and Kajang. On campus there are prayer rooms for Muslim students in the computer centre. There is also an Islamic centre next to the halls of residence. Shoes must be removed when entering places of worship such as mosques and temples. Some mosques provide robes and head scarves for female visitors. Taking photographs at places of worship is usually permitted but it is polite to request permission first.

The essentials

In this section you will find information on the University rules and regulations, safety on campus, key dates and useful contacts. These will be useful throughout the year, so once your first week is over, why not keep the guide on your shelf for future reference?

The library is a great place to catch up on your studies between classes.

University rules and regulations

When you sign your registration document you agree to abide by the rules and regulations of the University. It is your responsibility to familiarise yourself with these regulations before signing the registration document.

The rules have been drawn up to protect students and staff and to create a strong sense of community on campus. Below is an overview of the most important regulations.

Smoking

The University operates a no-smoking policy and does not allow smoking inside any building or in the areas designated as food and beverage outlets, even if they are outside the buildings. Malaysian law dictates that tobacco cannot be sold on educational premises so the shops in the Student Association Building will not stock tobacco products.

Alcohol

In Malaysia, alcohol is not permitted on educational premises, including residential accommodation on campus; therefore, the University forbids any student to store or consume alcohol anywhere on campus.

Drugs

The use of any illegal drug is against University regulations and any student found to be using illegal drugs will be subject to disciplinary action which can involve a fine or expulsion from the University. You are also reminded that the trafficking and use of illegal drugs is a capital offence in Malaysia.

Harassment

All members of the University are entitled to go about their life without harassment or intimidation regardless of gender, sexual orientation, age, race, religion and culture. The University will act against any student who harasses or intimidates other members of the University community. You should report any incidences of harassment to your tutor, warden or other senior member of staff.

Visitors

Visitors must register at the guardhouse, at the main gate, before entering the campus. You are responsible for the behaviour of your guests and it is your responsibility to ensure that your guests abide by the rules and regulations imposed by the University and the laws of Malaysia.

Security on campus

Your security is very important to us. Access to the campus is only through manned security gates and all visitors have to register with the security guards at the gate. The security guards have the authority to ask you to produce your student ID at any time and you should always carry it with you when on campus.

You will see security guards stationed around campus and patrolling 24-hours-a-day. They are present at the entrance to most buildings and in particular in the halls of residence, the Student Association Building and the computer centre. Some members of staff from academic schools are designated as safety officers and any concerns that you may have about safety can be discussed with these members of staff.

Security is a shared responsibility and we ask you to be vigilant and conscious of your surroundings at all times. If you see anything suspicious, please report it to a member of security staff immediately.

The main security office is located on the ground floor of the Student Association Building and is manned 24 hours a day. You can also call the security desk or, if the incident is non-urgent, send a report by email.

- Do not leave your personal possessions unattended at any time (lockers are available at the entrance to the computer centre).
- Do not give anyone access to any building unless you are certain that they have a right to be there and have a valid student or staff ID.
- Ensure that all your visitors are registered with security at the main gate.
- Enter the campus through the main security gates only.
- Do not wander around the campus alone at night.
- Do not attempt to swim, paddle or fish in the lake.
- Abide by the speed restrictions and parking regulations on campus.
- Do not light fires anywhere on the campus.

General safety on campus

You will see that there is still construction and maintenance work taking place on some parts of the campus. Students should not enter these areas until the buildings are completed and have been officially handed over to the University. You are also advised to be very careful while walking on undesignated paths/roads and are strongly advised not to enter the oil palm plantation areas near the campus.
